

And that, say the old storytellers, is why all the trees lose their leaves each winter, all except Pine.

